

THE BUYER'S STATEMENT

VERSION ONE & VERSION TWO

Wherever possible, to avoid a conflict of interest, pre-purchase veterinarians should not examine horses that they also provide veterinary services for.

However, it is recognised that there may be instances where a veterinarian must perform a pre-purchase examination on a horse that is a patient of the practice or where the owner is a client of the practice (e.g. lack of availability of another veterinarian for the examination).

If such instances arise, it is advised that two Buyers' Statements be available;

- one where the horse examined is not a patient of the practice ; and a
- second statement for horses that are patients of the practice.

Support staff should be instructed as to the provision of the appropriate statement depending on the specific circumstances where the horse may or may not be a patient of the practice.

The two versions of the Buyers statement are listed below:
